BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE.

The early history of the Tyrrells is extensively set out in the "Genealogical History of the Tyrrells," from which work the first portion of the following sketch is extracted.

Roots# 15852

The Tyrrells of Thornton Hall, 4 miles N.E. of Buckingham, were descended from Sir James Tyrrell, who lived about the middle of the fourteenth century, and who married Margaret, daughter and heiress of Sir William Heron, of Heron Hall, Essex.

Roots 16571

This Sir James was a direct descendant of Sir Walter, the alleged Regicide, whose grandfather, Sir Walter, was one of the companions of the Conqueror in 1066; and who was descended from Pepin le Gros, Duke of Brabant, great grandfather of Charlemagne.

Sir James was great grandfather to Sir John of Heron, who was present at Agincourt, 1415; Sheriff of Essex, 1423; Treasurer of the Household to Henry VI; several times Speaker of the House of Commons; and who died in 1437. His son, Sir Thomas, was Chamberlain of the Exchequer, and died in 1476, leaving four sons, the second of whom, Sir Thomas of Ockendon, was father of William of Ockendon, who married Elizabeth, daughter, and eventual heiress of Thomas Bodley of Devon. They had two sons, the second of whom, Humphrey, married Jane, daughter and heiress of John Ingleton of Thornton Hall, and obtained with her a very large estate in Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire, comprising over thirty manors. She was a Ward of the Thomas Bodley above named. They had one son, George, who married Elizabeth, or Eleanor, daughter of Sir Edward Montagu, Lord Chief Justice of England. George Tyrrell died on 16 May, 1571, leaving Sir Edward, his heir; William, of whom later; Thomas of London; Francis of London; and three daughters. Sir Edward married and had issue: Henry, who died young; Edward, created a Baronet in 1627; Sir Timothy; Francis; Charles (see Will, 1619); John; Sir Thomas; and eight daughters. The descendants of Sir Edward carried on the title until 1749, when the last Baronet, Sir Charles, died.

Reverting to William, second son of George, he is named in "Morant's History of Essex" as being siezed of part of Ockendon, and of the Manor of Bruyn or Brun, in Essex, which, in course of time, he alienated. He settled at Reading, not many miles from Thornton, and is variously described as Tyrrell, Terrell, Tirrell and Terrill, and his Virginian descendants have, in the main, adopted the second mode of spelling the name: possibly owing to that form having been most frequently used in the early Land Grants. He married a daughter of ..... Richmond alias Webb, of Stewley, Bucks, and had issue amongst others: Robert of Reading, who married Jane, daughter of Robert Baldwin, at St. Giles' Church, Reading, on 29 June, 1617. They had issue: John of Reading (Will, 1661), Robert of London (Will, 1677), Richmond, William, and Mary.

John and Robert died without issue. Richmond and William settled in Virginia and became the Ancestors of all the Tyrrells, Terrells, Tirrells and Terrills of America, with the exception of some few descended from the Irish branch of the family.

John, the eldest son, seems to have lived and died at Reading. Robert was a merchant in London, with interests in Virginia, as appears by his Will, 1677. He was a Witness to a deed in York County, 24 January, 1647, and in the records of that county there is enrolled a power of Attorney from John Wiskens and John Robinson, merchants, of London, to Robert Terrell, Citizen and Fishmonger, of London, to collect all debts due to them in Virginia.

In the same County is also enrolled a power of Attorney from Robert Terrell, Citizen and Fishmonger, of London, intending to take a voyage to England, appointing Thomas Williamson his Attorney in Virginia.

Richmond and William settled in Virginia, the former prior to 1650 and the latter before 1657. They and their descendants received sundry grants of lands, as appears by the following extracts from the Colonial records. From them descend the various branches now resident in the United States.

↳ 13 claimants arose for the crown of Scotland. of these John de Baliol & Robert the Bruce of Annandale become the leading contenders.

John initially acquired the throne after Edward acting as a negotiator. But later John prayed upon Phillip IV of France for an alliance against England. This peucipaloted the INVOSION of Scotlond by Edward. At Berwick Richard of Cornwell, Edwards nephew died. At least 8000 people were put to death at Berwick by Edward. Edward had the town rebuilt and provided it with an admirable & model administration. He summoned John de Boliol to Newcastle, but soon John renounced his fealty to Edwood & defied the English invaders

Edward moved against Scotlond achieving victories at Haddington & Roxburgh prior to arriving @ Edinburgh where the castle held out for 8 days. After Edinburgh Edward moved on to Stirling and then to Pirth. He recieved the while rod of submission from John @ Montrose. He then returned to Berwick where he recieved the 'Ragmon Roll' which included submission by most of the Scotish leaders. This took about twenty-one weeks in (1293?)

John de Warenne 'Earl of Surrey' → then about 60 yrs old. was defeated by William Wallace @ the battle of Stirling Bridge on the river Forth in 1297. He (Wallace) then proceeded on through Dundee, Edinburgh, Roxburgh, & Berwick. Eventully this march led into England and harried Westmoreland & Cumberland. Edward @ this time was involved against the French in Flanders. against King Phillip the Fair in the first stages of what would become the Hundred Years War.

" had 2 sisters Blanche + Marguerite
" had 3 sons + A dau Isabella
" mother was Jeanne of Navarre
" brother was Charles of Valois
" reigned for 29 yrs.

St Louis IX appointed inspectors known as inquisitor-reformers so as to insure the rights of the people were protected. Philip followed this practice.

Edward defeated Wallace at Falkirk, where 1000's Scots are said to have been killed. But because of Wallaces policy of destroying preserves Edward could not follow up his victory and withdrew to Carlisle. Wallace was subsequently captured in a tavern near Robroyston near Glasgow when he was identified to the English (led by John de Menteith) laying in wait by a servant Jack Short. Unprepared to defend himself, Wallace was pinioned, loaded with irons + token to London. He arrived in London 22 Aug 1305 + was token to the great hall at Westminster. He was tried + sentenced to be hanged drawn + quartered. The sentence was carried out with not an hours delay.

Edward p10 of 12 E1

A truce was signed between France & England. By this device Edward was to marry Blanche and his son Edward was to marry Isabella, both daughters of Phillip. Edward agreed to give Grascony to Phillip. This was soon amended & Edmund, Edwards brother sent Edward an amended treaty where Blanche's name was replaced by her younger sister Marguerite. The wedding took place on 8 September 1299 at Canterbury.

- Ascended to throne 1216 on death of his father John. He was only 9. He grew up not only without his father, but also without his mother Isabella of Angouleme as she quickly m.) Hugh de Lusignan after Johns death. Hugh was also Count de la Marche
- H III m.) Eleanor of Provence in 1236. She was crowned in London. Her mother was from Savoy. H III provided many of her relatives with castles in England. Eleanors grandfather was Thomas of Savoy. Her uncle Pelar of Savoy became Earl of Richmond. Another uncle William of Savoy (William of Valance) was named head of the Kings new Council. This all began to make the new queen disfavored by the English people.
- H III was very fond of his children. H III gave spectular banquets & balls. He took an interest in people personally & bestowed many gifts. Westminister Abbey was his love + life work, in honor of Edward the Confessor, for whom he named his oldest son who became E I.
- H III's weakest trait was his grasp of military matters.
- ~~H III's youngest sister m.) Simon de Montfort, Earl of Leicester~~
- H III sought to make his youngest son Edmund, King of Sicily

K&Q of E plot of John 'Lackland'

- JL suceeded to throne 1199 on decth of his brother Richard I
- Lackland derived from fact his father made no provision for him.
- JL was the youngest of 8 children & had brother Geoffrey.
- JL described as short & stocky.
- JL & Richard I nephew was Arthur who should have become king on Richards death. Richard chose JL so as to get back @ Arthur's mother Constance of Brittany. Arthur's father was Geoffrey.
- JL recieved the backlash of the English people as a result of Richard I's ways & extrovegonces.
- JL's queen was a half-first cousin once removed. Isabella or Avisa or Hadwisa of Gloucester. JL divorced her in favor of Isabella of Angouleme (France)
- JL's mother received divorce prior to her marriage from her 1st/ husband the King of France.
- Isabella of Angouleme was at one time engaged to Hugh de Lusignan, the Count de la Marche. Hugh & Arthur (the nephew) joined forces to take back the English throne. At Mirabeau, Arthur was captured & nobody really ever learned his fate. The King of France continued to press the war against JL. Soon after the barons presented JL with the Magna Carta @ Runnymeade on June 15, 1215. The pope annulled the document, & thereby incited JL to war agoinst the barons. JL's army consisted of foreign mercenaries as no English would support him. The 4TH/ Lateran council confirmed the popes annulment of the Magna Carta. JL however suffered his last catastrophe @ the neck of the wash, the inlet of the North Sea between Norfolk + Lincolnshire when the tide came in too fost. His troin disappeared under the water. In his will he appointed a 'good man' as the guoudion of the young Henry.

lived 1068-1135, suceeded to throne 1100 when his brother William Rufus died. Some have hinted he put Walter Tiryl up to shooting Rufus, but he was in the forest hunting with them when it occured. HI defeated his older brother Robert at Tinchebrai in 1106. HI, called 'The Lion of Justice' was a strict enforcer of the law. His methods, although severe, promoted peace. There were no uprisings by the barons during his reign. Another nickname 'Beauclerc' derived from his bookishness. He loved to hunt + retained a menagerie of deer at Woodstock. He married late, when 32, to Editn of Scotland, who was a great-niece of Edward the Confessor. Editn then changed her name to Matilda. They had 2 children, William who drowned in 1120, and Matilda (later Empress). HI felt constrained to marry again to Adelicia of Louvain from whom he had no children. He made all the barons swear fealty to his daughter Matilda. HI was the first of Williams (the Conquerer) sons to be born in England.

E & IR HI

Henry captured his older brother Robert in 1106 when he attempted to return & claim his inheritance, the throne of England. ~~Robert thereafter was imprisoned until his death in 1134.~~

All three brothers Robert, WR & Henry spent more time in Normandy than in England. Henry only son born after 1066. W.R. & Henry I were just as responsible for establishing strong gov. in England as WC. was. During their tenure 1087-1135, the financial system of England centred on the Exchequer, and the legal system was strengthened through the Chancery. Henry I had been educated in Latin & did not relish fighting war in person.

Henry I took control of the Treasury within hours of Rufus's death.

Henry crowned king by archbishop of London. Henrys capture of Robert at Tinchebrai in 1106 ensured his seat on the English throne, & won him Normandy. But it earned him strife with Roberts son & heir William Clito. There are three constant themes to Henry's reign. 1.) he was never strong enough to defeat decisively his rivals in France. 2.) Rebellion among his barons was constant in both Normandy & England 3.) Norman rule in England was alien to the English & opposed in resentment to taxes used to fight foreign wars. Henry as such was afraid of plots & always had the position of his bed changed w/ his sword & shield nearby.

Henry acquired his older brother Robert in 1106 when he attempted to return + claim his inheritance, the throne of England. ~~Robert therefore was imprisoned until his death in 1134.~~

During their reigns 1087-1135, the financial system of England centred on the Exchequer, and the legal system was strengthened through the Chancery. Henry I had been educated in Latin + did not relish fighting war in person.

Henry I took control of the Treasury within hours of Rufus's death.

Henry crowned King by archbishop of London. Henry's capture of Robert of Thorbrai in 1106 ensured his seat on the Eng lish throne, + won him Normandy. But it earned him strife with Robers son + heir William Clito. Three are three consistent themes to Henry's reign. 1.) He was never strong enough to defeat decisively his rivals in France. 2.) Rebellion among his barons was constant in both Normandy + England 3.) Norman rule in England was alien to the English + opposed in resentment to taxes used to fight foreign wars. Henry as such was often at odds + always had the position of his bed changed w/ his sword + shield near-by.

The Normons under W.C. were proud + ferocious worrios, with respect to ronk or tradition

W.C. had a ½ brother Odo of Bayeaux Earl of Kent. who was arrested in 1082 when planning an expedition to Italy to make himself pope. He is also referenced as the Warrior Bishop.

W.C knew that bottles are won by attention to the details of supply.

W.C's invasion (1066) was the 2nd that had occurred that year. He arrived in England as the recognized heir of Edward the Confessor, whose mother was a Norman of the English W.C. claimed after his coronation to be the ruler by "hereditary right. But in his day he was also referred to as William the Bastard.

In the decade after the conquest, the Normons acted in a very oppressive manner to the English. They behaved as an army of occupation.

After 1073 W.C. spent much of his time in Normandy, at war with Maine (1073), the Bretons (1076), the Angevins (1077-8 + 1081) and the French (1087). Prior to 1072 he spent much of his time in England suppressing rebellion. In 1072 WC marched north to Scotland as far as the Tay + compelled King Malcolm to submit to him.

W.C. eliminated the Old English aristocracy. He continued the systems of English taxation + coinage introduction of forest laws, which imposed strict regulation of the forests + hunting therein. The forests were also known as a refuge for patriots + outlaws who carried on guerilla war against the Normans for many years after the conquest.

One of W.C's greatest achievements was his making of Domesday Book in 1286. It was a survey of land, county by county. The Anglo-Saxon Chronicle said that "not ox nor one cow nor one pig were left off the record." It included questions such as: what is the manor called, how many villeins are there, how many freemen, how much woodland, how much meadow, how many mills, what is the estate worth etc. It covered three dates for each question 1.) 1065, 2.) when WC was granted estate + 3) 1086. It also questioned re. deaths between 1065 + 1085.

1085 Williams rule challenged by joint invasion from Flanders + Denmark. He responded by bringing over from Normandy the largest army ever seen to date in England.

William de Warenne may have received English lands as a result of W.C.'s conquest. → c. 1086?

When William died in 1087 he left three surviving sons Robert (who claimed Normandy) William Rufus (who was left the symbols of English royalty) and Henry (who succeeded Rufus)

W.C. crowned king by archbishop of York.

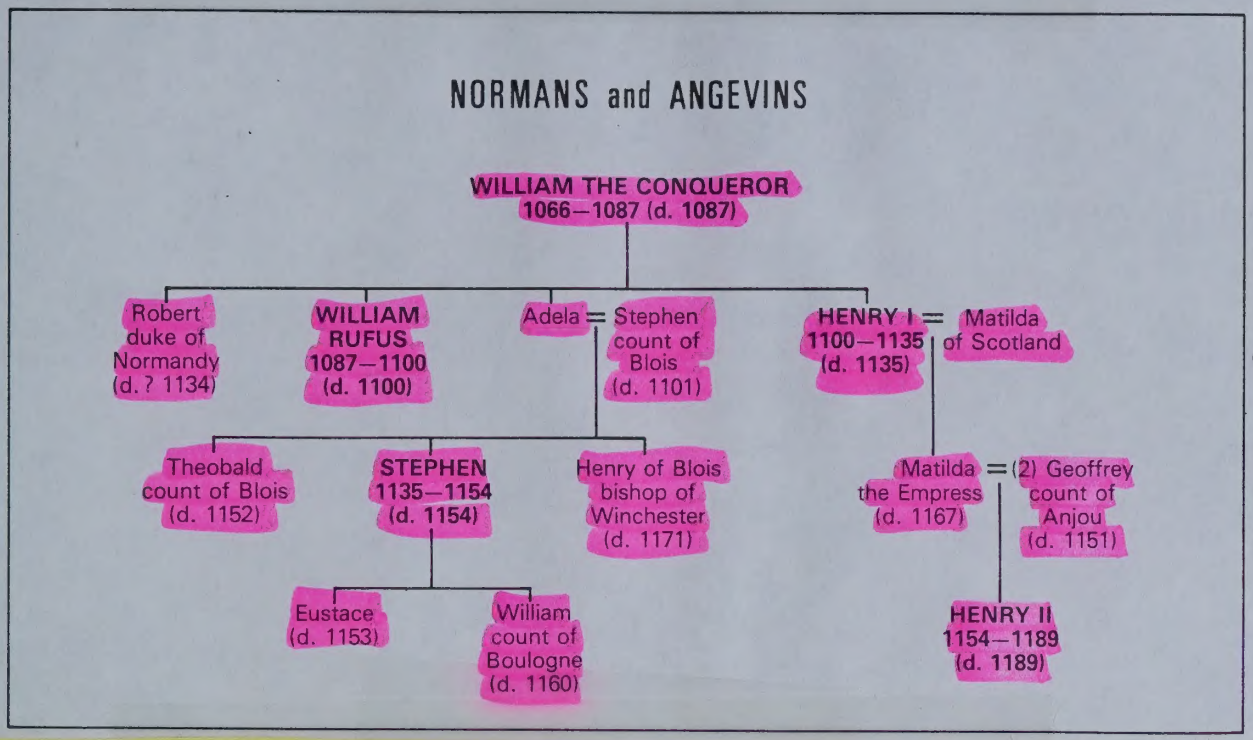
5tQofE 1of William Conqueror (WC)

He lived from 1027 to 1087. He came to the throne in 1066 when he defeated + killed King Harold Godwinson. W.C. believed he was entitled to the throne, Edward the Confessor was his cousin. W.C's mother was a tanners dau. People didnt believe he had a right to Normandy. He defeated the French barons @ Val-as-Dunes in 1047 w/ the help of Henri I King of France. But then King Henri turned against him. Normandy became the most vigorous milifory state in Europe. When Edward the Confessor died, Henry was elected King by the English Witan. This WC could not tolerate + prepared a great fleet, sailed for Pevensey, landed + proceeded to Hastings. ~~Harold Henry~~ Harold + his English army had just defeated the King of Norway and thus were unprepared for WC. WC fought foot soldiers w calvary. Each side had about 6-7 thousand men. WC used a tactic of feigned retreat. WC also had his archers aim high, and Harold fell @ that time. The battle @ Hastings over WC proceeded to London + on Christmas day 1066 was crowned King of England @ Westminister Abbey. To defend his goin WC built many castle's, the 1st of which was the Tower of London. Throughout his reign he had to put down spordic outbursts. His administration of England included both English + Normans. The Domesday Book shows how well WC knew England - who owned what + how much it was worth. It is doubtful that England ever warmed to WC but he earned their respect (note p 218)



WC's queen was Matilda of Flanders. They had 4 sons + 5 daughters. Under WC's reign England became a united nation (Story p 219)

W.C. had strong ties to the Papacy, but having arrived after conquest took no steps to reform the church.

W.C's dau. Adela, Countess of Blois, became a Cluniac nun in her widowhood. She encouraged HI to found Reading Abbey in 1121, + her son Henry of Blois, Stephens brother, was educated at Cluny (↳ Bishop of Winchester (1129–1171))

During WCs reign the Normans sought to reinforce the already strong ties between the English church + the Papacy.
